BetterPhoto.com[®] Announces New Features for Sharing Photos

REDMOND, Washington – July 26, 2007 – BetterPhoto.com, the worldwide leader in online photography education, today announced several new means for BetterPhoto members to share photos. Now the ever-growing BetterPhoto community can have fun communicating with their fellow photography enthusiasts and sorting their images in brand new ways.

“We are delighted to offer our members these outstanding advanced features which will make their BetterPhoto experience even more exciting!” said Jim Miotke, President and founder of BetterPhoto.com. “Our technology team is continually working to improve and enhance every facet of the photo sharing program, as well as making our site painless to navigate, so that we can offer the best photography website experience possible.”

With the new features for our member centers, photo gallery owners can collect all their favorite BetterPhoto images in one place, as well as keep track of when their most admired photographers upload new photos. And with an improved internal messaging system, they can easily communicate with fellow members. In addition, a new photo sorting tool has been introduced. BetterPhoto.com is abuzz with activity!

BetterPhoto brings together over 150,000 members from around the world for learning, fun, and community. The site offers over 100 courses on photography and Photoshop, taught by scores of published, professional photographers including Tony Sweet, Brenda Tharp, Jim Zuckerman, Outdoor Photographer editor Rob Sheppard, and Shutterbug editor George Schaub. Courses are offered every month. The monthly BetterPhoto.com contest, considered the best on the web, brings in over 25,000 entries monthly, and awards winners in 10 categories.
