BetterPhoto.com® Announces New Feature in Online Photography Course Section

REDMOND, Washington – August 28, 2007 – BetterPhoto.com, the worldwide leader in online photography education, today announced a great new feature for digital photography students. When browsing through the course pages, students can build a wishlist for future courses they would like to enroll in. Now the remarkably eager BetterPhoto community can plan ahead to chart their course for excellence in picture taking.

“This new wishlist feature allows students to designate photography courses for a subsequent session when a particular class is full or when their plate is already overflowing. After completing courses, they simply check their wishlist for the next exciting class they have chosen!” said Jim Miotke, President and founder of BetterPhoto.com. “We are so grateful to be able to continually create new ways to make the BetterPhoto experience happy, enriching, and fun for our devoted students and friends.”

BetterPhoto brings together over 150,000 members from around the world for learning, fun, and community. The site offers over 100 courses on photography and Photoshop, taught by scores of published, professional photographers including Tony Sweet, Brenda Tharp, Jim Zuckerman, Outdoor Photographer editor Rob Sheppard, and Shutterbug editor George Schaub. Courses are offered every month. The monthly BetterPhoto.com contest, considered the best on the web, brings in over 25,000 entries monthly, and awards winners in 10 categories.
